

DALADIER'S SHOW OF FORCE BREAKS STRIKE

GERMANS CARRY DRIVE ON JEWS STEP FURTHER

Police Now May Tell Them When They May Or May Not Leave

ALSO CONTROL WHERE THEY GO

Jews Also Comply With Identification Requirements

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Nov. 30.—The government carried its sweeping anti-Jewish campaign a step further today with the publication of an order empowering the police to tell German Jews they may or may not leave their homes and where they may or may not go.

The regulation appeared in the official gazette under the heading,
"police order regarding the appearance of Jews in public."

Make Dec. 3 Rule Legal

It was explained that the order provided a "legal basis" for yesterday's decree forbidding Jews to appear on the streets during eight hours on the day of National Solidarity, Dec. 3.

The regulation declared that "the proper provincial police departments" may forbid German Jews
or Jews without nationality to appear in definite districts or to leave their houses at definite times. Violation will be punishable by fines
up to 150 marks ($50) or imprisonment up to six weeks.

Dec. 3 is the day authorities collect money on the streets for the winter relief fund.

The Jews of Germany, already deprived of economic and social privileges, are hastening now to comply with one of the most decisive measures in the long line of decrees to distinguish them from the rest of the population—a requirement for special identification cards.

The cards, compulsory by the end of the year, must carry as first names the government-prescribed Israel for Jewish men, and Sarah
for women.

Indications Jews would be deprived of radios was seen, meanwhile, in a court decision that they might be taken to pay debts.

New Threatening Note
The newspaper Das Schwarze
Korps, published by the Elite
Black Guards, added a threatening
note today that all the Jews in Germany would pay for an attack
by a Jew upon any prominent German.

"On the day a Jewish-purchased murder weapon is lifted against one of the leading men in Germany
there will be no more Jews in Germany. We hope we have expressed ourselves clearly enough," the paper said.

It referred to an American newspaper, presumably the New York Daily News, although it was not named, which carried a letter to the editor suggesting pardoning convicted murderers if they would go to Germany to remove Nazi leaders.

"The newspaper made this proposal in its own behalf. It published it without comment," Das Schwarze Korps declared.

"Treasure Hunt" Thursday Night To Touch Off Annual Yule Buying Season In Salem

Christmas Lights To Sig-nalize Opening Of
"Gift Week"

The lighting of Christmas decorations in the downtown section
tomorrow night will be the signal for hundreds of Salem persons to begin the second annual "treasure hunt" which marks the official opening of "Gift Week" in the city and the beginning of the Christmas shopping season.

The thousands of new multicolored bulbs which now line the streets, and which are arched across intersections, will be turned on at 7 p. m.

The treasure hunt, which will yield actual treasures to many residents of the city and surrounding communities, has been arranged by the various merchants,
in cooperation with the Salem Business Bureau.

Numbered cards have been distributed to homes in Salem and the district and these will be brought to town by the window shoppers tomorrow night. Gifts will be given away to those holding numbers
corresponding to those on the cards
which will be displayed in the various store windows.

If you do not have a card you may obtain one at the Business Bureau offices.

Merchants on E. State st. and South Broadway put finishing touches today on their gayly decorated windows and the innumerable special free gifts have been placed in full view of passersby.

The store windows also will suggest gifts for the prospective Christmas purchaser. Favorable weather is predicted for the "treasure hunt."

The Christmas buying season in Salem will be given a good start tomorrow with the receipt by approximately 11,000 depositors of funds from Christmas savings clubs.

Checks totaling $49,000 were to have been placed in the mails late today to Christmas savings de-positors.

O. S. U. ALUMNI MEETS FRIDAY

Richard Larkins, Former Grid, Court Star, Will Be Speaker

A number of former students of Ohio State university are planning to attend the annual dinner-dance
of the Columbiana County Alumni association of the university at the Travelers hotel in East Liverpool
Friday night.

The county meeting is one of more than 100 which will be held in the state and nation Friday in observance of Ohio State day.

Richard C. Larkins, former East
Liverpool High school and Ohio State university football and basketball star, will be the principal speaker. He will discuss present day university problems and recall "good" old days on the campus.

Larkins is an assistant professor of physical education at the university and has been prominent as an athlete and coach. A native of East Liverpool, he holds both bachelor's and master's degrees
from Ohio State.

As a student at the university,
Larkins won both athletic and scholarship honors. He was president of his senior class, basketball captain and winner of the Western conference's scholarship award for the outstanding athlete-student in 1930-31.

Larkins served as freshman football coach Ohio State from 1931
to 1935 before going to the University of Rochester as head coach. He returned to Ohio State in 1937 to accept his present position.

Former students of the university in Salem may make reservations for the dinner with Cletus Paumier, Frederick E. Cope, Dr.
Guy Byers or Att'y Lozier Caplan.
Paumier is vice president of the county association and governor of District No. 4 of the state alumni body.

County Farm Bureau Will Meet Saturday

The annual meeting of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau will be held in the High school in Lisbon on Saturday beginning at 10
a. m.

Carl Bair of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation will be the principal speaker. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business transacted.

This event usually draws a large crowd of people from all parts of the county.

True William Tell

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 30.—
Bagging a deer with a rifle is sissy stuff to Sgt. Wayne Sines of the New Castle police force.

Arrival Of "Dictator" Awaited

This jolly old dictator is preparing to make his annual trek to Salem. He's due less than four weeks away.

He rules with an iron hand. He makes "angels" out of children (especially those few days before Christmas) and children out of adults. He needs no army. His every whim is obeyed, willingly.
The people do not fear him. They love him. And they're preparing now for his coming. He is Santa, himself, the dictator of peace, good will on earth.

Stores will not be open Thursday night but store windows will be "dressed up" and colorfully illuminated.

FIRE DESTROYS CHICKEN HOUSE

Salem Firemen Quell Blaze at Meissner Farm, Damascus Rd.;
75 Chickens Lost

Firemen succeeded in saving adjoining buildings when fire destroyed a chicken house at the farm of Anton Meissner about three miles west of Salem, on the Damascus road, at noon Tuesday. About 75 chickens perished in the blaze.

The fire department received a call at 11:18 a. m. and found the chicken house practically destroyed.
A double garage, two-story wagon
and implement shed and a corn crib had caught fire.

Members of the family aided firemen in filling the booster pumper with water from a well and in about an hour the flames had been quenched.

Fire Chief Vincent Malloy said
the house would have been threatened had the fire consumed the wagon shed. The blaze started from a bonfire near the chicken house.

Dismiss Rail Plea On Leetonia Rates

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—A three-judge federal court has announced dismissal of an appeal of two railroads from an Interstate Commerce commission order to increase coal freight rates from the Leetonia, O., district of Youngstown. ICC had directed the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western road and the Suburban Railways Co. to increase the rate from 60 cents to 84
cents a ton.

Circuit Judge J. Warren Davis
and District Judges Robert M.
Gibson and P. P. Schoonmaker upheld the findings of the ICC and dismissed the carriers' contention that the order was discriminatory.

Irondale Youth, 12, Is Coasting Victim

EAST LIVERPOOL, Nov. 30.—
Ian Tice, 12, died in City hospital Tuesday of a fractured skull and broken left leg after his sled collided with a school bus near his home in Irondale, 18 miles southwest of here.

Arnold W. Devon, Columbiana county coroner, exonerated John Gall, bus driver.

Police said the Tice boy's sled swerved under Gall's automobile
at a highway-alley intersection. A high embankment and fence obstructed the driver's view.

TWO CONVICTED ON SPY COUNTS BY U. S. COURTS

FAIL TO OBTAIN HELP FROM NAZIS

"The Germans Threw Her Down" Says Girl's
Attorney

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A federal jury which convicted a man and woman of conspiracy to steal U. S.
military secrets for Germany today considered a recommendation of clemency—or perhaps acquittal—for a third alleged Nazi spy.

Unaided by the German war ministry officials she was charged with serving, Titian-tressed, 26-
year-old Fraulein Johanna Hoffmann went back to her jail cell
weeping to await a possible maximum sentence of 20 years.

Convicted with her was Otto Hermann Voss, German-born mechanic who was seized in a strategic Long Island airplane factory
last February and indicted with Fraulein Hoffmann and 16 others, including four German military officers.

"Threw Her Down"

Shortly after the jury announced
its verdict, following four hours
and 25 minutes of deliberation,
George C. Dix, attorney for Miss Hoffmann, declared: "The Germans
threw her down."

"If Hitler would send us the money," he added dryly, "we would appeal."

Counsel for Erich Glaser, German-born private at the Mitchell field army air base and the third defendant on trial, indicated that lack of funds would force him, also,
to rest his case solely with the district court jury.

Awaiting sentence with Miss Hoffmann was Voss was Guenter Gustav Ruarich, Chicago-born, German-bred deserted army sergeant,
whose arrest led to a roundup of suspected German agents. He pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial and turned informer, implicating the three other defendants.

MOUNTS QUILTS AT POSTOFFICE

Veteran Clerk Retires on Pension; Changes, Caused By Retirement, Announced

Punching the time clock for the last time, George H. Mounts, 63, finished up his work today at the Salem postoffice after 40 years service.

Mounts who retires on pension,
effective tomorrow, leaves the postoffice just in time to avoid the Christmas mailing rush.

Changes in the personnel of the postoffice, caused by his retirement,
were announced today by Postmaster A. E. Beardmore.

Miss Elizabeth Gibbons, who has been a regular substitute clerk since November, 1929, is being promoted
as regular clerk to succeed Mounts.
Dwight Getz is being transferred from substitute carrier to substitute clerk and Ray J. Reasbeck is being appointed new substitute carrier.

Reasbeck, who was named from the eligibility list, took the postal examination in September, 1936.
Getz has been serving as substitute
carrier for almost two years.

Hits "Slum" Plan

MARION, Nov. 30.—Members of the state housing board considered
today the protest of Mayor Frederick C. Smith and 800 residents against a proposed federal slum clearance project here. Mayor Smith told three members of the board, who inspected the project site, "there are no slum areas in Marion."

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30.—Leni
Riefenstahl, German actress, sports-
woman and motion picture producer, who came here to visit winter resorts, felt the chill today of local opinion and retorted—"I am surprised."

The attractive dark-haired woman, who denied on her arrival
she was "Hitler's girl-friend," issued a formal statement in reply to an advertisement in a film trade paper
by the Hollywood Anti-Nazi league,
which proclaimed:
"There is no room in Hollywood
for Leni Riefenstahl."

Said she: "I am surprised that a lady making a vacation trip in America to see the most interesting places of this land should be thus

HUNT FOR FIVE IN DEATH PLANE

Officials Blame 'Too Good'
Radio Reception For Tragedy

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—In the churning surf off Point Reyes,
the gloomy search was resumed today for the bodies of four men and a young woman who met death yesterday through a strange, new hazard to aviation.

Officials gravely studied the queer phenomenon of "too good"
radio reception which so confused
the pilot of a Seattle-San Francisco United Airlines plane he became lost and had to bring the transport down on the sea when it ran out of gasoline. One said the phenomenon had occurred just three times, and never before had caused an accident.

SHARP TO HEAD WELFARE UNIT

Directors Name Attorney
Chest Association
President

Attorney Joel H. Sharp was elected president of the Salem Community Chest association at a meeting of the board of directors
Wednesday noon at the Lape dining room.

Other officers are: Vice President, F. J. Emeny; secretary, H. C.
Hurlburt; treasurer, L. H. Colley.
Eight of the nine members of the board were chosen recently by the council of the chest association.

Today Colley was elected the ninth member by the board. As such he will serve as assistant chairman of the community campaign next spring and chairman of the 1940
campaign.

J. H. Wilson will be chairman
next spring.

One Way To Peace— The Other To War, Is Hull's Warning

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., Nov. 30.—
Secretary of State Hull said today
the world was at a crossroads, and one course leading to peace and the other to war and anarchy.

He issued a statement of greeting on his arrival here on the S. S.
Santa Clara, enroute to the Pan-
American conference at Lima, Peru.
"I am confident that the coming meeting at Lima," his statement said, "will be a constructive force
in favor of the first course (peace)
which is the way of the American republics."

"At this focal point of Inter-American communications by sea
and air and land, we can not but
be impressed by the natural opportunities offered to all of us for a highly profitable interchange. This interchange is not only that of trade but the more important exchange of ideas, culture and friendship."

"When we return from Lima, I am sure that all of us will have a stronger faith in the development of an international order in this hemisphere which will embody the best of our respective institutions,
cultures and civilizations."

Schools Receive Funds From State

Supt. E. S. Kerr announced today
the receipt of $21,000 in the form of a note, representing the fourth quarterly distribution of state public school funds.

The board was given the authorization to borrow upon the face of the note, as is the usual procedure.
The county school office at Lisbon today received a quarterly distribution of $51,252.

PREMIER MEETS BIG CHALLENGE TO GOVERNMENT

National Array Of Armed Troops Breaks
Opposition

TROUBLE MAKERS PLACED IN JAILS

More Than 500 Arrests
Are Reported In Paris
District Alone

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 30.—By a nationwide
array of armed force, Premier Daladier today quickly broke the 24-hour general strike which constituted organized labor's first big challenge to his government and its economic program.

The stock premier, whose enemies
have accused him of dictatorial ambitions, met the issue head on.
Inside of a few hours there was nothing left of the movement, directed by the powerful General Confederation of Labor, except isolated partial strikes in some private industries, dock workers'
strikes in some parts and a few street car strikes.

Troops Ready To Act

Mobile guards, police and in many cases army units were in abundant evidence to prove the premier's determination to smash
the labor demonstration against his decree laws.

In cases where active opposition was shown trouble makers were hunted off to police stations.
Approximately 500 arrests were made in the Paris district and several dozen arrests were reported from other points.

Members of parliament branded
the day a fiasco for labor and a resounding triumph for Daladier and his government.

It was predicted that Daladier
would have a majority when parliament meets again next month,
with support from the right and his own Radical-Socialist party.

The first big break in the strikers' front came at 8 a. m. (3
a. m. in Salem) four hours after the strike began, when the subway workers' union in Paris conceded defeat and revoked its strike order.

Ready To Sign Pact

Political leaders expressed the belief that unless the strike movement gained headway later the Daladier government would have established itself firmly enough in the saddle to go ahead with its projected signature of a new Franco-German accord.

The ministry of the interior announced that the arrests in the Paris region were for attempting to keep workers from their posts. The ministry said police were taking stern action against would-be strikers in private industry.

Henry J. Burgman, Rail Veteran, Dies

ALLIANCE, Nov. 30.—Henry J.
Burgman, 80, of Alliance, one of the oldest employees of the Pennsylvania railroad, died at 2:10 p.
m. Tuesday at the Salem City hospital following a five week illness.

Born at Baden, Pa., Mr. Bur-gman had spent most of his life in Alliance. He served as an engineer for the Pennsylvania railroad until 18 years ago when he retired due to ill health. He was a member of the St. Joseph's Catholic church in Alliance.

Surviving him are a brother, Tobias J. Burgman of R. D. 1, Salem, with whom he made his home for some time, and a sister, Mrs. Adam Huth of Rochester, Pa.

The funeral service will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday in the St. Joseph's Catholic church in Alliance.
Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery on South Union ave. in Alliance.

Wellsville Police Radio Is Rejected

WELLSVILLE, Nov. 30.—Councilman here today rejected, 4 to 2,
a proposal to install a $2,175 police radio system, paid for by public subscription, in the police station at city hall.

Police Chief John J. Fultz recommended that the fire department
be moved to city hall to permit
firemen to serve as radio operators.

THE NEXT NEW DEAL

If what the country has been having is the third new deal, the fourth new deal now is beginning to show up in news from Washington.

The next congress is assembling. Early in January it will be in session. According to most predictions, there will be a minimum of excitement as far as domestic legislation is concerned.

The Roosevelt administration will be content to hold the ground it has gained with its program. It is believed. That doesn't mean, however, it will not be following its well defined inclination to make things over.

Most of the recent news from Washington has concerned what is lumped under the high-sounding phrase, foreign policy. Foreign policy comprises all the things which are not strictly national. It concerns the country's relations with all other nations.

Here is a vast, unexploited field in American politics. It is true in a general sense that the United States has no foreign policy—at least nothing more complicated than the wish that it could quit worrying about such a thing.

The fourth new deal, in all likelihood, will be concerned with the evolution of a foreign policy to fit an international situation in which this country's traditional longing for isolation is becoming increasingly hard to satisfy. It easily may prove to be the most important—possibly even the most exciting—phase of President Roosevelt's two terms in office.

WHY NOT AUTOMOBILES AT 30 PAGES?

Decline of professional soldering and the rise of mass warfare have turned up some odd situations. The defense of Paris against air raids has been taken over by an organization of war widows. Every town needs defenders—men, women and children who won't have a chance to fight, unless they get hold of an anti-aircraft gun, but who will be indispensable for putting out fires, distributing gas masks and so on.

Europeans have been aware of this a long time. The idea's just beginning to be clear here. Proposals like that of the air corps, for 100,000 civilians to be taught to fly and 125,000 more to be taught how to become airplane mechanics, indicate that Americans will be aware of the significance of mass warfare before long.

It's a pity—and the observation is made seriously—that the war makers never included the automobile in their plans. It's a piece of machinery with great potentialities of destruction. This country has most of the world's automobiles instantly available for offensive or defensive operation. In automobiles, it's safe to say, the United States couldn't be beaten. Perhaps that's why automobiles have been passed up in favor of airplanes.

It's all right though, because in the long run this country will have the most airplanes, too, for the same reason that today it has the most automobiles—mass production. When that time comes, the war makers will think twice before starting anything.

TWO YEARS ARE ENOUGH

Without knowing what determines such weighty matters and with no way of finding out, Americans are only mildly interested in the kiss-and-make-up scene being put on by the Duke of Windsor and Prime Minister Chamberlain.

It has been just two years since the ponderous machinery for removing Edward VIII from the throne unless he consented to let the churchmen and politicians run his affairs was oiled and made ready. On Dec. 11, 1936, there was a great groaning, mankind listened to its most thrilling radio broadcast (the abdication speech) and Edward was on his way into exile.

It wasn't till the following June 3 that he married Mrs. Wallis Warfield, and when another Dec. 11 came, the buildup for the coronation of George VI and his eminently acceptable queen had smothered most of the world's interest in the world's most famous lovers. Two years is a long time. A lot of things have happened since the United Kingdom's future depended on whether a commoner and a king dared to look at each other.

TO THE DEATH

All signs point to the imminence of a genuine crisis in France—not just another one of those deadlocks which can be broken by resignation of a couple of politicians.

Extremists interested in overthrowing the capitalist system of France have entrenched themselves in the labor movement to the extent that they are in position to exploit a national emergency for revolutionary purposes.

The Daladier government is faced with the cold certainty of an economic collapse unless further sabotage of the capitalist structure can be prevented. Spokesmen for organized labor say the government is trying to take advantage of workers. They are prepared to call a general strike. It is their plan to force the government to its knees, which would amount to a triumph for communism.

The government's plan is to counter this with a general mobilization of workers to keep the strike from being effective. Neither the government officials nor the revolutionists have any illusions. It is a fight to the death this time.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, December 1

A DAY of confusing or mysterious adventures may be expected, judging by a rather curious or perplexing planetary configuration. It seems as if some underhand, peculiar or subtle situation may be brought into the open, the affair might be turned to good account. In all be cautious and beware of dangerous intrigue and possible misconstruction or slander. Romance may enter the social or domestic life.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves enshrouded in a year of intrigue or situations involving a rather spectacular romance. This may cause tongues to wag, especially following the revelation of some peculiar, subtle or suppressed occurrence affecting the private associations. It is not entirely sinister and gifts and pleasant things may be expected, but be cautious with correspondence or unwelcome publicity.

A child born on this day may be sympathetic, generous, friendly and high-minded, although secretive, subtle and mysterious in its actions and peculiar in its ideas. Its most noble objectives may be pursued undercover and be subject to suspicion.

OPEN MIDDLE-WEST TO WATER-BORNE COMMERCE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Army engineers have nearly completed an extensive system of navigation improvements in the upper Mississippi valley, designed to open a huge area of the middle west to water-borne commerce.

Secretary Woodring said today a 680-mile, nine-foot deep channel on the upper Mississippi, extending from the mouth of the Missouri to Minneapolis is more than 81 per cent finished.

"This notable improvement will become fully available for commerce and navigation next year," he said in his annual report.

Further progress also has been made toward converting the unruly Missouri river into a commerce carrier, Woodring reported. He added that on the Illinois waterway, which links the Great Lakes with the Mississippi and its tributaries, tonnage has doubled within a year. Improvements of the midwestern waterways were among 332 separate projects the army engineers carried out during the fiscal year which ended June 30. Their work in coastal, gulf, lakes and inland rivers and harbors, and on intracoastal and inland waterways cost $200,704,376. This was a decline of about $33,000,000 from the previous fiscal year.

These expenditures for improvements to waterways and control of floods continue to provide direct and indirect employment for several hundred thousand persons and stimulate industrial activity," Woodring said.

Improved waterways carried 583,100,000 tons of "productive" tonnage, valued at $20,900,000,000 in the 1937 calendar year, he estimated.

In flood control, Woodring reported the engineers had started or were about to commence projects for the protection of several areas in New England, Pittsburgh and other sections which have suffered in recent years.

The war secretary gave as the status of other construction:

Ohio river—System of 46 locks and dams on the Ohio and three on the Kanawha river completed.

"STICKING OUR NECK OUT"?

Tells How Mental Functions Are Centralized In Brain

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THE closing years of the eighteenth century, in the ancient city of Vienna, a doctor of imposing appearance and an air of confidence and profundity began to give public lectures to announce that he could tell anyone's fortune by examining the bumps on his skull. His name was Franz Joseph Gall and the system which he elaborated was called phrenology.

Like many false systems before and since, it was instantly popular. Gall lectured on the continent and many eminent men in medicine and science espoused his cause. By 1832 there were 39 phrenological societies in England, and several journals were devoted to the subject. It was proposed to use the system in selecting members of Parliament, and one enthusiast suggested that a child's head could be molded mechanically so as to suppress the evil and bring out the good.

Everyone has seen phrenological charts, showing the skull partitioned off, with various human traits designated as if on the surface of the brain beneath. There is optimism right at the very top, where it should be, and wit up in front over the eyes. If you bulge there you should prepare to be witty. (It is really very easy; if you get the reputation, all you have to do is say, "Pass the mustard," and the table roars.)

Mapped Them Wrong

There was, of course, this much to Gall's idea — that the mental functions are pretty well distributed into separate parts of the brain. But not as Gall mapped them out. Long after Gall some really scientific workers, such as David Ferrier, determined in what parts of the brain are localized its functions.

They differ from phrenology, the quick science. Where Gall put Conscience, Aggression, and Caution (at the back of the brain) is really the visual center, where the images received by the eye are translated into mental concepts. The eye sees a yellow blotch and the occipital lobe says to the frontal lobe, where the intellectual processes are localized, "That is a tubercle begonia."

Hearing Center

The center for impressions of hearing is at the side just about over the ear. You hear a sound and your auditory center telegraphs to your frontal lobe. "That is an automobile horn". And then your consciousness telegraphs to the motor center, "Jump". But if the message were not delivered with any more promptness than the modern telegraph companies practice, we would all be killed by automobiles.

The use to which this knowledge of localization is put can easily be understood when we consider the modern science of brain surgery. Brain tumors grow in a certain localized spot, and the symptoms depend on what part of the brain they are pressing on. This can be decided in the light of our knowledge of brain localization and an opening made in the skull over this area and the tumor removed.

Can't Along

To the question of how much of the brain we can get along without, the answer is, a surprisingly good deal. We can get along without any intellect at all. The American crowd bar case, in which a crowd bar was driven by a dynamite charge through a man's frontal lobe, proved that. Though this is the center of the intellect, he lived for years, carrying on very well. The frog with all its brain removed will hop, swim, croak and adjust itself to every stimulation, but will sit like a mummy and, though surrounded by food, will not eat.

WEST MAY TAP NEW RESOURCE

Campaign Launched To Make U. S. Self-Sufficient

SAN FRANCISCO—With the United States dependent upon importations from all parts of the world of nine of the "strategic minerals" necessary for the carrying on of modern warfare, a campaign has been launched for making the United States self-sufficient in nearly all of these minerals by the development of known deposits that exist in the western states.

The development is declared to be all the more necessary at the present time for the reason that China, major source of tungsten,
which is indispensable in the hardening of all iron and steel, is passing into the hands of Japan and China, principal world's source of mercury, is still so embroiled in war to make it certain that America could import enough for its needs in event of war.

Eleven States Enlisted
The campaign has been undertaken by a private, non-profit organization whose objective is the development of all resources of the western states.

The nine minerals that are impervious for the manufacture of modern war materials are antimony, chromium, manganese, mercury, mica, nickel, platinum, tin and tungsten. With the exception of tungsten, the United States is exceedingly poor in the production of these minerals, although deposits
are said to exist in the western states.

Metals for Many Uses
The minerals or metals are necessary for the manufacture of all types of guns, ammunition, armor
plating, tanks, automobiles, machinery
of all kinds, virtually all electrical equipment, cutlery, structural steel,
tools and implements, hardware,
wire and building material.

At present the United States is dependent on imports from all parts of the world. The bulk of antimony comes from Mexico,
China and South America; sheet iron from British India and also Madagascar; tin, from the East Indies; nickel, platinum and chromium from Great Britain; tungsten
from China and mercury from Spain.

Statistics were offered to show that the United States' consumption of these minerals is as exceedingly large but the production is small.

For the first time in its campaign to make the United States
self-sufficient in these minerals,
the complete technical survey of the mineral resources, aided by state administrative officials, federal departments dealing with new raw materials of the region, businessmen,
and privately and publicly owned utilities. As soon as the survey is complete, which will be next year, conferences will be convoked and steps taken for the development of all domestic sources of these minerals.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Bridge Party, Shower

Continuing the extensive list of social affairs arranged in honor of Miss Barbara Benzinger, fiancée of Herbert P. Lindsley of Wichita, Kas., Miss Rebecca Harris entertained at a bridge party and shower at her home on Tenth st., Tuesday evening.

Miss Benzinger and Mr. Lindsley will be united in marriage at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 31, in the Church of Our Saviour. Rev. Ian Robertson, rector, will officiate. Twelve guests attended the affair, presenting Miss Benzinger a number of gifts. Contract bridge prizes for the evening's play went to Miss Carmen McNeil and Mrs. Arthur Hamilton.

Lunch was served at the tables with white appointments, using the bridal theme. Mrs. Henry Reese will entertain Thursday evening in honor of Miss Benzinger and several other fetes are planned for next week.

Miss Benzinger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland P. Benzinger of East State st. and Mr. Lindsley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert K. Lindsley of Wichita, Kas.

Following the business session, Miss Belle Golladay, program chairman, presented Misses Mary Lou Vincent, vocalist, and Alice Ruth Vincent, pianist, who entertained with several numbers.

Mrs. William F. Dell gave two readings and Miss Mary McCartney gave an interesting account of her trip to Alaska. Mrs. R. R. Woods concluded the entertainment with two readings.

Since there will be no class meeting in December, the social hour featured a Christmas observance with the seasonal colors carried out in the table decorations. The lunch was served by Mrs. Wright and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. Golladay, Mrs. W. E. Bollinger, Mrs. Theodore Jewell, Mrs. T. A. Claycomb and Miss Campbell.

The program, opening with roll call, "The Name of a Negro Spiritual," included a paper on "Negro Spirituals" by Al. J. Freed. Miss Ruth West sang two numbers, the spiritual, "Heaven Bell A-ring, I Hear De Song" (transcribed and arranged by Hugo Frey) and Schubert's "Serenade".

During the social hour, when lunch was served, members held group singing of Christmas carols.

Honor Newlyweds At Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Brudery, whose marriage was a recent event, were honored at a dinner given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Weikart in Greenford.

Catholic Daughters Sew For Hospital
Catholic Daughters of America will sew for Salem City hospital at the home of Mrs. Ralph White-leather, 358 West Pershing st., Thursday afternoon. All members are urged to attend.

Dorcas Society Will Meet
The Dorcas society of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church will meet at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Celia Greenisen, Depot rd. A large attendance is desired.

Miss Audrey Walsh Heads Class
Miss Audrey Walsh was named new president of the Friendly class of the Baptist church at a meeting of the class Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. P. L. Blevins, advisor, on Newgarden ave.

Other officers are: Vice president, Miss Martha Jane Stirling; secretary, Miss Shirley Beagle; treasurer, Miss Doris Barler; corresponding secretary, Miss Betty Grace; social secretary, Miss Doris Dixon.

Ten girls attended, enjoying a social hour after the business meeting. Members worked on Christmas gifts. Lunch was served.

Marriage Licenses
Marriage licenses have been issued at Lisbon to A. J. Turk, of Chicago, corporation representative, and Ernel Heacock of East Liverpool; Clair McCauley, truck driver, of Wellsville, and Rachel Mobley, Wellsville bookkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Snipes have returned from a southern trip in which they visited various points of interest in Florida.

German Ship Lands At Tokyo Airport
TOKYO, Nov. 30.—A four-motored German Condor plane landed here at 10:40 p. m. (8:40 a. m. in Salem) after an 8,375-mile good-will flight from Berlin. The official flying time was 41 hours 24 minutes.

Frona Clay, 24-year-old stewardess, who helped everybody out of the fuselage and made her way to shore, only to be swept back into the sea when she dodged the careening plane wing as it swept by.

The Survivors
Capt. Charles Stead, 42, veteran pilot who gave a full and harrowing account of the tragedy.

Passenger Isadore Edelstein, 51, paroled Washington state convict bound for Honolulu to begin a new life. Edelstein was hoisted up the cliff at Point Reyes by stretcher, after he and Stead had fought their way to shore and then collapsed into unconsciousness from exhaustion. He was taken to Stanford hospital here, to be treated for exposure and a shattered knee-cap.

Dispatched to the scene by the civil aeronautics authority in Washington, was a board of inquiry headed by Thomas O. Hardin, member of the CAA safety board. Their task, as a United Airlines official expressed it, will be "to make formal findings about what everybody now already knows was the cause of the accident."

Too Many Stations
The poor pilot just got so many short wave stations he couldn't sort them out," the official said. "The Oakland report did send out instructions to clear the air until the plane got its correct bearings, but it was too late then, for he was already far off his course, with gasoline fast dwindling."

It was one of those perfect nights when every radio signal was coming in strong," explained Pilot Stead. "You could have called a friend in Australia and recognized his voice. Portland and Salt Lake were coming in stronger than Sacramento. There was such a hodge-podge of radio beam signals we couldn't pick out our own to follow."

Pay For Burials
COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson yesterday released $52,319 to counties from Adams through Hamilton, alphabetically, for burial of old age pensioners in August and September. He said $46,963 probably would be released to other counties soon.

Scalds Are Fatal
CONNEAUT, Nov. 30.—Carole Jarvi, 16 months, died yesterday of scalds suffered when she fell into a tub of boiling water.

Favors Proposal To Finance Schools

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—Gov.-Elect John W. Bricker said today that he favored "earnest consideration" of a proposal by State Treasurer Clarence Knisley that $15,000,000 be borrowed from the state treasury to pay off a deficit in the school foundation program.

Bricker said that he would confer soon with a committee of 19 representative Ohioans named by the Ohio Education association to seek means of lifting the school program out of its financial difficulties. State officials have estimated that a deficit of $17,000,000 would exist by the end of the year. The plan advanced by Knisley called for borrowing of the money to put the school system back on its feet, and then repayment of the loan over a period of five years. He said the state treasury has a balance of $45,000,000.

LAUNCH INQUIRY INTO MINE BLAST

Inspector Tom Reese And Coroner Arnold Devon Open Probe

Rites for McDade will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Negley Methodist church, with Rev. McMannis officiating. Burial will be in Glenview cemetery.

Barry Assigns Reese
COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—John Barry, chief of the state division of mines, today assigned Inspector Tom Reese of Salem to investigate a mine accident in which two men lost their lives near East Palestine Monday night.

Berry said his division's traveling expense account had become exhausted, and he was unable to open his probe until the state board of control yesterday allocated $1,600 for that purpose. He said the sum would be adequate for the remainder of the year.

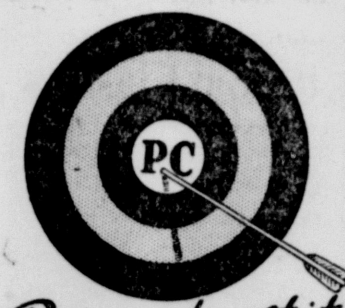

Berry said no report on the fatalities would be filed until an exhaustive examination had been made. It is believed that an explosion was responsible, he said.

Identifies Couple As Hunted Bandits

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Nov. 30.—Chief of Police William A. Payne said a man and a woman seen on the streets here early today had been identified by a patient at a health resort here as Benny Dickson and his blonde wife, at present couple No. 1 of the crime world.

Payne said the patient was walking toward the health resort when he noticed a car parked at the curb with the woman behind the wheel and the man slumped over in the front seat as if doubled up with pain.

The man offered to aid them to the door but the woman started the car and drove away at high speed.

The patient said the man's face was covered with a three or four day growth of beard and that three rifles were in the back seat of the car.

The patient identified a picture of Dickson as the man seen in the car. Last Thursday Dickson escaped from officers at a Topeka, Kas., tourist camp when officers fired 48 shots at him. It was believed he suffered a head wound in a brush with Michigan state police early Monday.

Sam Baron

Branding Sam Baron an "unmitigated liar," newly elected Representative Vito Marcantonio of New York asked for an opportunity to testify before the Dies committee in Washington to reply to the former Socialist newspaperman's charges that he headed the International Labor Defense, which Baron called a "Communist front organization." Baron said he had resigned from the Socialist party so he might appear before the committee investigating un-American activities "as an individual only."

'HOUND' DESIGNED TO HUNT RADIUM

Cleveland Doctor Has Recovered Large Amounts

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Doctor, if you've dropped a piece of radium and can't find the priceless fragment after ransacking the office from top to bottom, Dr. Robert B. Taft stands ready to assist with his "radium hound."

Dr. Taft estimates he has recovered more than $100,000 worth of radium with the "hound," which is made almost entirely of radio parts and has a nose for gamma rays that functions, rain or shine.

The instrument, according to its inventor, once penetrated the recesses of the Charleston city dump to point out a minute piece of radium that was carted away with refuse from a hospital. It also has performed notably in cases of radium lost in sewers, drains, waste baskets, furnaces, and—in one instance—in the stomach of a pig.

The "hound" is a development of the electroscope, formerly used for locating misplaced bits of the radiating element. But where the electroscope was slow to react to presence of the metal, the "hound" begins buzzing as soon as it sniffs the tell-tale emanations.

And weather conditions have no effect on its performance, whereas the electroscope might not recognize a lump of radium a foot away in rainy, or even damp, weather.

Taft began experimenting with radium recovery in 1933 with an electroscope. His first case was a piece lost in a doctor's office. After several hours he found it in the waste basket.

He began dabbling with the electroscope, adding improvements one by one until finally the modern "hound" was evolved.

Taft has records on 107 radium losses. Of these, 59 were complete recoveries, 11 were partial recoveries and 3 went down as total losses. He's still working on the 107th.

TWO-PRICE IDEA APPEARS SOUND

Economist Holds System Would Help Farmer And the Poor

AMES, Ia. — The proposed two-price system for farm products would mean social benefits to the poor without material disadvantage to the well-to-do, according to Geoffrey Shephard, Iowa State College agricultural economist.

The plan is being given considerable attention by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and others seeking solution to the farm problem. Under it, surplus commodities would be bought by the government and sold to persons in the lower income brackets at below market prices.

"The farmer probably would receive a slightly larger income directly from sales," Shephard said. "In addition, if the government bought surplus supplies and sold them for less than it paid, the farmer would gain what the government lost."

Argues on Nutrition
"From the domestic nutritional point of view, it is wiser to feed our own undernourished people better than to sell surplus stocks at bargain prices to foreign nations — who resent it anyway."

The economist said cost of the system to those in the higher income brackets would depend upon what sort of plan is put into effect.

"It could cost them nothing," he asserted. "For example, whenever a large crop of fruit drives prices down to the point where they do not cover picking, packing and transportation costs, fruit is left to rot on the trees and ground."

Fair Adjustment Seen
"If the government bought these stocks at a little above cost and sold them at low prices to poor consumers, they would not remove any of the supply of the well-to-do. And the prices to the well-to-do would not be affected."

"If, however, part of a large supply already going to market were diverted to poor consumers, that would reduce the supply to the high income group and raise their prices to some extent. But it would only raise prices from surplus levels toward average levels — not thrust them above average."

As a clinching argument in favor of the plan, Shephard said: "The cost of food is a smaller percentage of the budget of the rich man than of the poor. And one potato less on a well-loaded table has less effect than one more on an empty one."

Duke, Duchess To Spend Christmas At Riviera Home

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The Duke of Windsor and his American-born duchess were said by members of the duke's entourage today to be planning to spend a real "southern Christmas" at the French Riviera.

There is no question, these friends indicated, of their spending the holidays in England and definite plans have been made for opening their chateau, De La Croix, at Cap d'Antibes the week before Christmas.

According to present plans it will be a "family" Christmas with perhaps a few old friends invited to stay with them in what English friends of the duke describe as the "American holiday spirit."

Current reports in Paris and London that the ducal couple would return to England in the near future were denied by informed sources close to the Windsors.

These sources added, however, that this had no bearing on the increasingly friendly relations between the former King and other members of the British royal family.

Love's Labor Won

KOKOMO, Ind.—Boys and girls who may have dreamed of the school burning down didn't let it happen when the test came. When the Darragh chapel consolidated school caught fire, pupils formed a bucket brigade and kept the blaze under control until firemen arrived and saved the building. The damage was $3,000.

President Gets Reports on Dictator Countries

Ambassador Phillips, the president and Ambassador Wilson

Before the fireplace in the little White House in Warm Springs, Ga., President Roosevelt gets firsthand information on conditions in Italy and Germany from Ambassadors William Phillips, left, and Hugh Wilson. After the conference, Ambassador Phillips was ordered to return to Italy, but Ambassador Wilson will remain in Washington indefinitely, according to the state department.

Woman Enters Man's Realm; Proves Highly Successful

Hallie C. Roessler, At Helm Of Salem Builders Supply Co., For Many Years, Adds New Department

A little more than 25 years ago, an alert and energetic young business woman seized the opportunity to provide steady work for her teamsters and teams by going after, and securing, the contract to haul all the building materials for the new City Hospital.

This young woman was Hallie C. Roessler, bookkeeper and manager of the J. B. McNab Coal Co. Step by step and year after year, Miss Roessler forged ahead in the business world and today operates the Salem Builders Supply Co.

Adds New Department
Just recently she added a new department to the growing business—a department which includes toys for the children and numerous other gift articles.

When Miss Roessler landed the hospital job, McNab, her employer, was a pioneer in the artificial ice business. But he sold the ice business to the Citizens Ice Co. and this left little for the teams to do when the coal season was over.

McNab was away for his health when Miss Roessler got the hauling contract for the hospital job.

At this time she realized that although there was a lumber yard in town there was not a concern which carried building materials the year 'round. The idea of forming such a company took shape in her mind and when McNab returned he gave her permission. She showed where, with the same equipment, he could have worked the entire year for the men and teams. And so was organized the Salem Builders Supply Co., in connection with the J. B. McNab Coal Co.

Buys the Business
After McNab's death, Miss Roessler operated the business for one and one-half years for Mrs. McNab. Then the latter persuaded Miss Roessler to buy both the property and the business, making suitable terms.

That was in 1916. The business grew rapidly and during the World war when it was almost impossible to find workers, six concrete overhead bins were constructed in which to store such materials as sand, gravel, slag, limestone, etc.

These materials were unloaded and conveyed to the bins by means of an electric conveyor. This was the first equipment of its type in the district.

Later conveyors were added for unloading coal. Trucks had succeeded teams and could be loaded with either coal or building material in two or three minutes. The manufacture of concrete blocks was begun.

Her first real job was the new postoffice building. All the building materials, except lumber, were sold by Miss Roessler.

Adds Building Specialties
During the years, Miss Roessler discontinued the manufacture of square gallon syrup cans, this having been a part of the McNab business. Many customers were asking for building specialties, as well as paint and builders hardware. So these lines were added.

Service, efficient and courteous, has been the keynote of the firm since its organization.

To provide this service, Miss Roessler found it necessary to add additional lines to the hardware department and to meet the growing need of such a store. Rooms were remodeled to suit the need and today the former dark dingy boiler room of the old ice plant is a large, comfortable and well-lighted modern paint and hardware store.

In for 139 Years

Robert Irwin

Laughing one minute and scowling the next, Robert Irwin begins a sentence of 139 years in Sing Sing prison for the murder of Veronica Gedeon, her mother and a roomer in the Gedeon home. He is pictured just after entering the New York penitentiary.

Lodgeman Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 30. — Funeral services will be held in Columbus for Tobias Weinstein, 95,
who died yesterday at the Ohio Masonic home. He was believed the oldest past patron of the Order of the Eastern Star in the United States.

BERKELEY Cal. — The Home Economics division of the University of California can make rats turn gray and then get back the natural color of their hair to their heart's content. The absence or presence in their diet of Filtrate Factor, one of the vitamins in the Vitamin B complex, does the trick.
Experiments have not yet been made on human beings.

DR. EMIL HACHA SUCCEEDS BENES

Former Head Of Supreme Court New President
Of Czechoslovakia

(By Associated Press)
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov.
30.—Dr. Emil Hacha, formerly head of the supreme court administration, was elected third president of Czechoslovakia by the national assembly meeting in parliament
house today.

Being the only candidate, his election was mere formality.
The late Thomas G. Masaryk was first president of the republic. Dr.
Eduard Benes, Masaryk's protege, who succeeded him, resigned after the Munich cession of Sudetenland to Germany.

The 63-year-old jurist, who writes and speaks Czech, German and English, was elected with 272 of the 312 votes cast. Thirty-nine of the ballots were blank and one was declared invalid.

The gray-haired jurist is virtually unknown to the general public for,
though he has a high reputation in Prague legal circles, he never before has taken part in politics.

Hacha, who is a Roman Catholic,
was born at Svlavy, Bohemia, Aug.
7, 1872.

For many years he has represented Czechoslovakia on the world court at the Hague.

The new chief executive will be known as the "president of the Czech-Slovak republic," a phrase which officially hyphenates the name of the nation to indicate the equality of the Czechs and Slovaks.

As president, Hacha is also commander-in-chief of the armed forces,
but he cannot declare war without prior approval of the national assembly. He can dissolve the assembly, but not in the last six months of his seven-year term.

CLEVELAND — Policemen, spectators, defendants and witnesses
held their noses at Central police station. Police dashed to the third floor where Edward Wyman, customodian, had dropped a jar of stench fluid.

ROME—Meo Pasquetti, a poultry
dealer, got the idea of blowing up his turkeys with a pump so as to sell them the more easily. Everything went well until a turkey exploded and a piece of bone injured
his assistant's eyes.

CLEVELAND—Esther Frayer, 17, carrying 16-month-old Cecil Williams, caught her heel in the street car tracks. Struck by the fender of the car, the girl was knocked down, the baby thrown from her arms. The child's right leg was fractured, the girl bruised.

End of Torture-Kidnap Trial

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kevin and Mrs. Betty Berry

After the jury had found her husband guilty of kidnaping and torturing Irving W. Baker, former coast guard officer, in his trial at Olympia, Wash., Mrs. Betty Berry, wife of the defendant, Dr. Kent W. Berry, socialite-physician, departs from the courtroom with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kevin. The jury rejected Dr. Berry's defense of "unwritten law," a claim that Baker had assaulted Berry's wife. The jury recommended life imprisonment for the physician and three others who were found guilty with him.

TREASURE HUNT

THURSDAY NIGHT AT 7 O'CLOCK WATCH FOR YOUR TREASURE CARD Delivered to Your Door

It's valuable — watch for it. The card you will receive is numbered. In the store windows of firms participating in Salem's Treasure Hunt you will find articles displayed, with numbers attached to the articles. Shop every window and when you find your number on a gift—take your card to the merchant and receive the articles displayed as a Christmas Gift — free of all charge. CARDS ARE REDEEMABLE MONDAY, DECEMBER 6th, THROUGH FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10th. If you fail to receive a card, call at the Salem Business Bureau and duplicate will be furnished you.

Join the Treasure Hunt--It's Great Fun It Costs Nothing and YOU May Win!

It is during this gala event that Salem merchants draw back the curtain on the joyous Christmas shopping season—when gleaming new merchandise supplants the old and tarnished — and Salem streets transform themselves from mere streets of brick and busy traffic to a happy friendly meeting ground for all of Salem and vicinity. Indeed, yes—this is when you catch the Christmas spirit — a happy sort of state of mind that makes your heart a little lighter — your legs a little stronger and your eyes a little clearer — a little clearer to see the same old things of a humdrum everyday life in a new, beautiful, a seemingly unnatural way, that is the happy state of mind called Christmas Spirit — and once you get it — you never want to lose it. Those interested in catching the Christmas Spirit should EXPOSE themselves in Salem stores during Treasure Hunt Week — it's the best — the quickest and the grandest way of catching "the feeling you never want to lose."

The beautiful Christmas Street Lighting has been made possible by the merchants who have the varied color Christmas lights strung in front of their places of business.

OPPONENTS FOR VARIOUS BOWL GAMES NAMED

BICKERING HAS JUST BEGUN IN BOWL LINEUPS

Los Angeles Writers Pan Choice Of Duke For Rose Bowl

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

With most of the dates made, the battle of the bowls went merrily on today. Comment on the various selections and guesses on the outcome of the games has given the old blues more cannon fodder than they have had in years.

The better box office draws already have been selected.

The lineup for Jan. 2: ROSE BOWL, Pasadena, Calif.—Duke, Southern conference champion, vs. Southern California, tied for Pacific Coast conference title.

SUGAR BOWL, New Orleans—Texas Christian, Southwest conference title, vs. Carnegie Tech.

COTTON BOWL, Dallas—Texas Tech vs. Villanova—If Villanova decides to accept.

ORANGE BOWL, Miami—Tennessee, Southeastern conference champion, vs. Oklahoma, Big Six champion.

SUN BOWL, El Paso—New Mexico has invited Utah. No word from the Utes as yet.

COAL BOWL, Charleston W. Va.—Unheard of since Carnegie Tech turned down a bid.

PRUNE BOWL (Don't say you weren't warned) San Jose, Calif.—San Jose State vs. Memphis Teachers. This one's set for Dec. 23.

EASTERN BOWL, New York—off. See the New York weather report.

Other operations:

East-West all star game, San Francisco, and North-South all star game at Montgomery, Ala.

In the old days they used to just pick 'em and play 'em.

Now they pick the selections apart. The Los Angeles sports-writers are panning Duke's selection and there is mild indignation in Texas that the Christians, the state's pride, will play outside the state.

Main complaint in Los Angeles seems to be that the Trojans turned down a chance to get Texas Christian for Duke. One writer reported the Tournament of Roses officials were definitely inclined toward the Horned Frogs and that Duke "features a heroic but far from spectacular, Stonewall defense" and added Southern California was letting itself in for "dirty cracks about 'picking somebody who is pretty sure not to do much scoring'."

All this probably will be seized by the master Wallace Wade of Duke to whip his boys up to a fine lather of revenge against the Trojans.

Southern California, in common with Tennessee and Oklahoma, has a game left. And what a game. The Trojans meet the Irish of Notre Dame, currently the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, Saturday.

Tennessee must get by Mississippi in a situation ripe with upset possibilities. Oklahoma has Washington State the same way, Saturday. The Trojans meet the Irish of Notre Dame, currently the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, Saturday.

Tennessee must get by Mississippi in a situation ripe with upset possibilities. Oklahoma has Washington State the same way, Saturday. The Trojans meet the Irish of Notre Dame, currently the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, Saturday.

If Villanova's athletic council decides to send the Wildcats to Dallas, the game should be one of the day's best. Villanova has been spreading fear and fire around the east for two years. Texas Tech is the undoubted champion of the south-west independents.

Carnegie Tech appears the best short ender; the Sun Bowl has Bill Dwyer of New Mexico, the desert werewolf, to offer, and one of the coast writers pointed out "the Trojans could sell out the Rose Bowl by playing Wellesley or Smith college for women and wait a minute, he may have something there at that."

Thursday, Dec. 1

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

7 p. m.—Ohio Bell vs. Crescent Machine; Washingtonville I. O. O. F. vs. Grate's West End Service; Salem Polo Club vs. Leontina Super Service.

Dog Racing Hit

TOLEDO, Nov. 30.—The sixth district court of appeals, in upholding the conviction of James Peak on a gambling charge, ruled yesterday the "short system" employed in dog racing at the Fort Miami fairgrounds track "was an obvious attempt to evade gambling laws." There has been no dog racing at the track since the test case arrest of Peak in August, 1937. Peak was fined $100.

Iowa State Places Four Men, Oklahoma Three On All-Star Squad

By WHITNEY MARTIN

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30.—Oklahoma and Iowa State, which battled it out for the championship, shared a majority of the places in the 1938 all-star Big Six football team, selected for the Associated Press by coaches, sports writers and other critics.

Iowa State placed four men and the champion Oklahoma Sooners three. Each of the other four schools is represented by one man.

Edward Bock, Iowa State guard, and Charles Brock, Nebraska center, are the only repeaters. Bock, Everett Kischer, Iowa State quarterback, and Gilford Duggan, Oklahoma tackle, were unanimous choices. Roland Young, Oklahoma end; Charles Heileman, Iowa State end; and Hugh McCullough, Oklahoma back, missed unanimous rating by an eyelash. All first team choices won their positions by comfortable margins.

Paul Christian, Missouri's sensational passer, is the only Sophomore on the team, and Elmer Hackney, Kansas State fullback, and Duggan, the only juniors.

First Team

Ends—Roland Young, Oklahoma, and Charles Heileman, Iowa State. Tackles—Gilford Duggan, Oklahoma, and Clyde Shugart, Iowa State.

Guards—Edward Bock, Iowa State, and Ferrel Anderson, Kansas. Center—Charles Brock, Nebraska. Quarterback—Everett Kischer, Iowa State.

Halfbacks—Hugh McCullough, Oklahoma, and Paul Christian, Missouri. Fullback—Elmer Hackney, Kansas State.

Second Team

Ends—Don Crumbaker, Kansas State, and John Shirk, Oklahoma. Tackles—Shirley Davis, Kansas State, and Justin Coovers, Oklahoma.

Guards—James Thomas, Oklahoma, and Ralph Stevenson, Oklahoma. Center—Jack Kinnison, Missouri. Quarterback—Earl Crowder, Oklahoma.

Halfbacks—Herman Rohrig, Nebraska, and Jack Dodd, Nebraska. Fullback—Henry Wilder, Iowa State.

NAME CO-CAPTAINS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 30. Everett (Boo) Elkins, halfback, and Zack Kush, center, were selected last night as co-captains of the 1939 Marshall college football team. Elkins was named "most outstanding" player of the 1938 team, and Jack Morlock, halfback, as "most valuable."

LEADS ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Nov. 30.—Virgil Scobey hometown sophomore, yesterday was elected captain of the Ashland college football team for 1939.

PROBLEMS FACE CLUB HEADS AT ANNUAL CONFAB

Several Player Trades May Be Made At Baseball Meeting

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—In homes and farmsteads over the land the big league baseball men are stowing away their hunting equipment and paring their bunnions in preparation for the winter meeting which starts here Dec. 13.

Baseball men do about 98 per cent of their meeting while shifting from one foot to another in the hotel lobby retreating to the easy chairs only on the third day when arches finally crack under the strain, so a certain amount of rest-up always is necessary in advance of the conventions.

The approaching meeting promises to be fairly interesting, even though the net results never are commensurate with the amount of talk indulged in. There should be several big player deals, with the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants figuring in the most important transactions.

The two leagues are due finally to get together on a uniform baseball, with the American adopting the so-called "pitchers' tag" introduced by the National a year ago. Tests have proved this ball travels as far as the American pellet when hit solidly, but its raised seams afford the pitcher a better grip.

It is recalled that both leagues were set to adopt this ball at their last winter meeting, but that something happened at the last minute. The American leagues became miffed at President Ford Frick of the senior circuit and bolted the tentative agreement. Now they are understood to be at peace again. Next summer, with a uniform ball in play, it will be possible to make more accurate comparisons in the pitching and batting of the rival leagues.

The New York Yankees, with no money troubles, are going to ask the American league to start paying spring salaries on the first day of spring training, rather than waiting until the season opens. Owner Jacob Ruppert has figured out that this would be an effective method of discouraging the hold-outs and getting all players into camp on the dot.

This would stand an excellent chance of adoption were it not for the fact that there always are several clubs with no money to speak of in the bank.

The subject of night baseball will be up for some acrimonious discussion in American league councils, with the Cleveland Indians demanding permission to play seven games under the floodlights next summer.

It takes a majority vote of the clubs to grant the fixing of night games, and the club that applies must convince the others that the nocturnal bouts are a financial necessity. Cleveland was turned down the last time it applied, but they say President Alva Bradley is coming back this time with fire in his eye.

The only National league argument in sight is a three-cornered one with General Manager Larry MacPhail of Brooklyn scrapping the Giants and their American league allies, the Yankees, over Larry's right to broadcast home games. The three clubs had an agreement not to broadcast before Larry took over in Brooklyn, and he is fighting to break it.

Reports are current here that the Giants have offered St. Louis $250,000 for either Ducky Medwick or Johnny Mize, but there is no confirmation in the Giants' office.

Barons Icers Change Style To Follow Rangers Attack

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—Opposing International-American Hockey League goalies today were shopping around for extra large mittens, wider leg guards, helmets, and plenty of fibre bracing. The activity was caused by Coach Bill Cook of the local hockey Barons announcing that from here in his sixth year he would use the New York Rangers' style of attack.

The announcement may be giving opposing goalies restless nights but local fans are chafing at the bit awaiting the fireworks. The Ranger style calls for everyone up-ice but the goalie when they have possession of the puck, and puts the defender of the opposition's nets under a constant hail of rubber to say nothing of making him a whirling dervish if he is to stop all the shots coming his way.

All too often to suit Bill Cook opposing teams have been content to get one score and sit back on their heels protecting the slim lead, making for a listless game as far as the paying customers are concerned. If Bill Cook and his charges have anything to say about that, those days are definitely passe.

The Syracuse Stars, defending International-American hockey league champions, who dumped the Barons out of the playoffs last year besides handing them their lone reverse on the local ice, will afford the Barons the first opposition under their new mode of attack when they invade the Arena City Twinks hold the upper hand in two meetings with the Barons, having pulled out with a 3-3 deadlock in their first visit here two weeks ago, and outlasting the Cook-clan 4-3 in a thriller at Syracuse last Sunday. Faceoff is at 8:30.

ZUPPKE BEATS MOVE TO OUST HIM AT ILLINI

Trustees Veto Proposal Of Athletic Board To Fire Coach

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Robert C. Zuppke, University of Illinois football coach for 26 years, can start work on his 1939 eleven today with assurance that his critics cannot cause his removal.

That assurance was given the dean of Western conference coaches yesterday by the university trustees who, by a vote of eight to one, smashed an attempt to oust him. The trustees' veto of the proposal by the university athletic board to give the veteran a leave of absence until retirement age of 65, was viewed as strengthening Zuppke's position at Illinois. Zuppke is 59.

The trustees' verdict was considered a rebuke to the athletic board which, dissatisfied with the Illini's showing in recent years, had demanded that Zuppke step aside and serve in an advisory capacity at a reduced salary, reputedly $6,000 a year.

The trustees admittedly were stunned by the proposal.

Trustee Harold Pogue of Decatur, Ill., one of the outstanding athletes in Illinois history, immediately telephoned Zuppke at his home in Champaign. When Zuppke informed him that he had resigned against his wishes Pogue led the fight to veto the proposal.

The trustees subsequently settled the matter in 20 words: "The board of trustees of the University of Illinois disapproves any change in the status of Coach Robert C. Zuppke."

That meant that Zuppke, the old fox of the gridiron, had outmaneuvered and defeated critics who have been howling for his scalp. When the request was made for his resignation, he surprised the athletic board by signing it, knowing that it must go to the trustees at their meeting on the eve of the annual Illinois football dinner.

The "Little Dutchman", as he is known on the Illinois campus, was elated over the trustees' decision.

"I'm glad the board of trustees acted as they did," Zuppke commented with a grin. "We probably will have a worse football team next year and I wonder if the members of the athletic board can take it. They will have to take it next year. I know that I can."

SCHULTZ TO QUIT

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—Eddie Schultz, football end coach at the University of Pittsburgh, said today he would resign to devote full time to his law practice. He said he had wanted to resign at the end of the 1937 season, but that Dr. John Bain Sutherland, head coach, asked him to remain.

SPEED DRIVERS AGAIN TO RACE ON SALT BEDS

Eyston-Cobb Competition May Push Record Near 400 M.P.H.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 29.—Is 1939 too early for 400 miles an hour on the Bonneville salt flats?

Speed observers argue yes and no.

The people who get up in the middle of the night to drive 125 miles into the salt desert to see runs of 10 seconds' duration are present convincing arguments on both sides.

But the only two men who can provide a concrete answer—Capt. E. T. Eyston and John Cobb—are in England, preparing the resumption of one of the most sports rivalries in history.

Eyston and Cobb will come back to the white salt beds in 1939. Each has applied for permission to use the fastest speedway in the world. Official sanction is only a question of getting the Bonneville speedway association together in January.

John Jenkins, of Utah, holder of a long list of world endurance records, has not applied yet for permission to use the salt beds next year.

Eyston, working with August Dusenberry in Indianapolis, has an automobile nearly completed which he claims "a speed of 400 an hour."

Eyston and Cobb are the only men ever to travel more than 100 miles an hour on wheels.

Eyston holds the world land speed record of 357.5 m. p. m. Cobb set it for 24 hours just previous to Eyston's record-setting run.

Eyston's dawn-to-dawn record was 12 m. p. h.

Eyston is working this winter to erect his eight-wheeled, seven-ton speed monster, "Thunderbolt," which is plotting a radically changed Ralston. How much the new four-wheel soup tureen which Ralston will be changed to is a topic for speculation.

And how fast the 1939 editions of Thunderbolt and the Ralston will travel when wound up tight may be answered. That question was not answered in 1938.

Thunderbolt, a long, gleaming mass of power which has 3,600 horsepower under its shell, had a task under its throttle to keep Eyston from stripping the tires.

The Eyston approach to high-speed possible was to warm his car at a nominal speed of 240 m. p. h. or so, look over the salt surface's friction and harden it, and whittle an appropriate chunk off the wooden throttle. Then he would plant his foot close to the floorboard as would go and give Thunderbolt a gun over the measured mile.

When Thunderbolt made the gun record that chunk of wood was under Eyston's heavy foot.

Cobb's Ralston, however, doesn't depend so much on power to get the record. Of course, it is 2,600 horsepower—but the design is the thing.

Built by Reed Ralston, the car is low and flat and comparatively light—only three and a half tons is easier on tires than seven tons.

Ralston announced the experimental speed car was built to do the Ralston traveled 350.2 m. p. h. in a case full of observations and machines cleaned from last summer's speeding. Ralston and Cobb planning to add to the Ralston's.

Eyston took speed honors away from Cobb. Eyston, Cobb and Ralston will guess how fast Thunderbolt will be able to go next year.

The miscalculated in 1938. They set Thunderbolt, whose previous best was 312.42 (former record) was good for 350.

So they built the Ralston to go as fast as it did.

But Thunderbolt added 45 miles an hour to its old record, hit 357 m. p. h. and kept the speed title.

So in planning for 1939, it is not the way to hazard a guess at both camps are hoping for 450 m. p. h. an hour jump in speed, and perhaps figure 400 m. p. h. per hour will be necessary to take top honors.

TOPEKA, Kas.—S. D. Flora, federal meteorologist, has announced that an all-time record for fall rains had been established in the part of Kansas. The only part of the state in which there has been normal amount of rainfall is southwestern Kansas, which in the past had been included in the "dust bowl."

C. U. on way to Pasadena for Rose Bowl." Then Duke would have 12 wins and still no score against 'em'.... Now that Solly Krieger was whipped by Billy Conn, the two-champion "muddelweight" Sit-Chee-Ashun may be cleared up today.... Hymie Caplin will take it over before nightfall with Mike Jacobs and may agree to let Solly go with Fred Apostoli.... Fred will take on Al Coccozza in New Haven Dec. 20, however, and probably meet Conn, before starting on Solly.... Don't believe a word about those stories of Walter Hagen's retirement.... Sir Walter will be swinging in the coast campaigning in January as hot as ever.

This corner thinks the Orange Bowl swiped the best bet of the lot, provided Oklahoma and Tennessee get by old man Jinx in their last games Saturday.... College scouts have been after Johnny Stevens, who plays a lot of end for Devitt prep in Washington.... Is it news that the Green Bay pro grid Packers tour all winter as a basketball team after the football season ends?.... Arn Herber is the sharpshooter of the outfit.

Is this one for the books—or is it? Jack Johnson of Norborne (Mo.) high kicked off to Harvin High to open the second half of their game, and Hardin punted back from its own 30.... Jack took the foot and romped 89 yards down the left side to a touchdown.... He kicked off again; again Hardin punted back from its own 30 and again Jack took the return punt just 89 yards down the left side to pay dirt.... Both scores came on exact series of plays.... If anyone knows when Hugh Daily, the one-armed pitcher back in the 90's died, please send the info to Harlow Forker at Danville, Ill.

MEXICO FACING FOOD SCARCITY

"Times Mighty Hard", Say People, "But We've Faced Worse"

MEXICO CITY — The Mexican government, in the fourth year of President Lazaro Cardenas' program of social and economic readjustment, is struggling to force down the cost of living.

This is the second year of severe depression in Mexico—a depression which the opposition blames on past exploitation of the nation.

Wages have gone up, but the cost of living has gone still higher. A series of crop failures added to the distress. Beans cost four times as much as they did five years ago. Substitutes for food staples have been introduced in many households.

But there is an old proverb that "Mexicans starve slowly." This year crops are improved. The government has been importing wheat, beans, and rice and subsidizing the imports of both beans and rice in an effort to force prices down for the food that the poor man must buy. Hope is expressed in government quarters that Mexico will not be forced to import any corn this year.

People Remain Optimistic
"Times are mighty hard," most Mexicans say, "but we went through worse during the revolution."

"During one of my campaigns," Gen. Ramon P. Iturbide recently told this correspondent, "my regiment went 40 whole days eating only a thin diluted corn gruel—yet fought and didn't complain. That doesn't happen everywhere."

The wage increases labor obtained in 1935 and 1936 contributed to increase commodity prices. This in turn caused real wages to go down. At first this was not noticeable, but there was a sudden skyrocketing of food prices in 1937.

The Confederation of Mexican Workers at one time threatened to stage a general strike seeking 50 per cent wage increases to compensate for the new price scales, but the government persuaded it to dismiss such a thought.

Even the department of education ordered all teachers to lecture on the "people's struggle against the high cost of living."

To get an idea of how the cost of foodstuffs has gone up, here is a table of wholesale prices (in terms of kilograms):

	Centavos	1933 Aug. 1938
Rice	19	30
Flour	25	36
Beans	10	33
Corn	6	17
Butter	84	147
Meat	39	79

The official price index has gotten so out of hand that it is no longer generally published. Taking 1922 as 100 the index for the last few years is as follows:

1923	89.8
1924	94.7
1925	94.5
1926	100.4
1927	118.9
1928	124.5
March 1938	123.6
August 1938	123.6

VIEW AT ODDS ON U. S. FLEET

East Coast Squadron To Be Much Larger Than
First Planned

WASHINGTON—Creation of the new Atlantic squadron, giving the United States its first unified naval force in the Atlantic since shortly after the World war, has resulted in widespread speculation among observers here as to the permanence of the "fleet."

Naval officials contend the new force was formed purely for "tactical and administrative" purposes, and assert it probably will be disbanded at the conclusion of the 1939 naval maneuvers, scheduled to be held on the Atlantic side beginning late in January and lasting until about the middle of March.

Many observers, however, have felt the maneuvers simply have provided the navy with a convenient reason for creating the force without causing too much furor.

Decision Came With Crisis

It is not known, of course, exactly when the navy high command decided to place a squadron in the Atlantic but it was regarded as particularly significant by some observers that the announcement was made when the European situation was highly unsettled.

The squadron as originally announced consisted of seven destroyers and seven cruisers. Later three cruisers which were ordered from the west to the east coast during the height of the European crisis, presumably to be available to evacuate American nationals, were added to the squadron, although no official announcement of the move was made.

Shortly afterward, it was learned the entire training detachment, consisting of about 20 warships and including four battleships, would be consolidated with the new unit to make a force on the east coast of about 40 vessels. This includes several new vessels that have been added from time to time. Other additions are contemplated, it is reported.

Not Designated As Fleet

Naval officials insist the squadron is in no sense a fleet. They point out that of the four battleships, two are over age and one is demilitarized.

Nevertheless, some observers contend that even if the present squadron is not a particularly strong unit in itself, it could serve as a basis for contemplated permanent force in the Atlantic.

A staff organization for the expanded squadron has been created. Chief of Staff is Capt. Allan S. Farquhar, who was assistant to the chief of naval intelligence.

When announcement of the formation of the original 14-vessel squadron was made, some quarters immediately criticized the move, contending it was in violation of one of the first rules of naval strategy—that is, that the fleet must not be divided. Navy men countered with the assertion that the new force had not weakened the fleet and that both the battle force and scouting force were intact. The new squadron, they pointed out, was composed principally of new construction.

Like Other Squadrons

Although much larger, the Atlantic squadron is not dissimilar to United States forces in other waters.

In the Far East is the Asiatic Fleet, consisting chiefly of gunboats, destroyers and submarines.

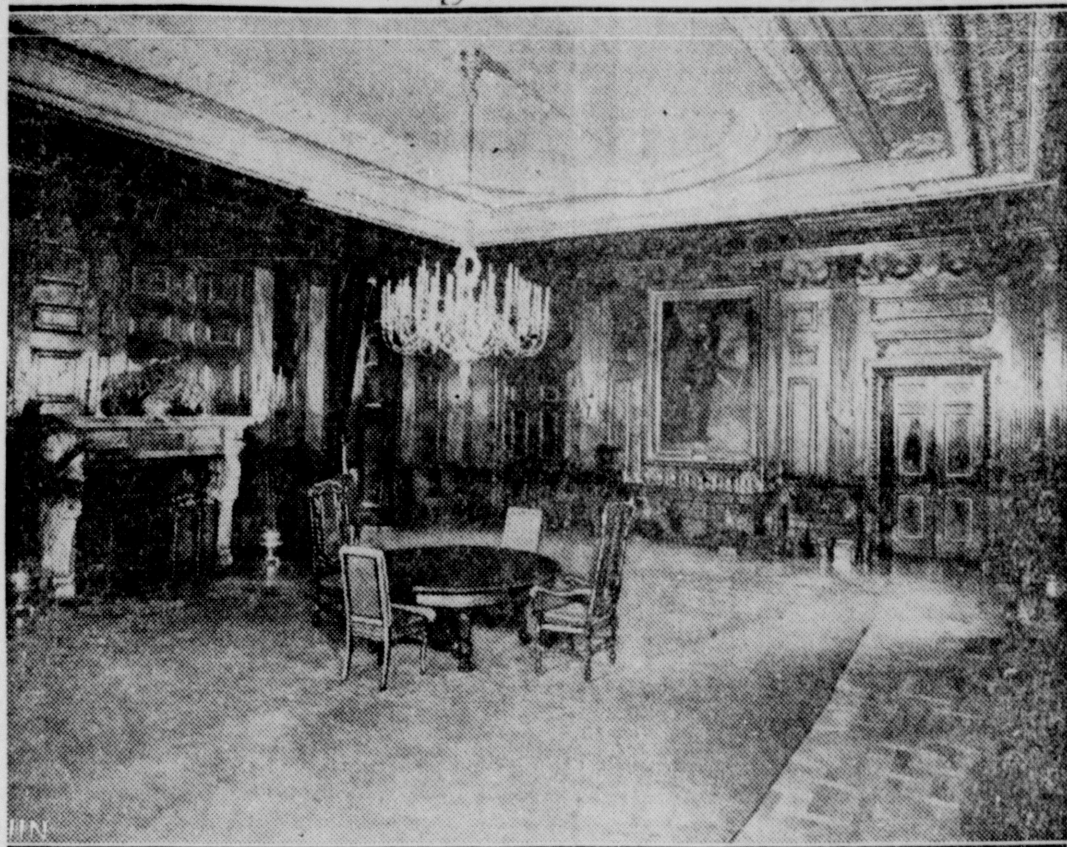

In the Caribbean the United States has the special service squadron, consisting of a destroyer and two gunboats. Although this unit has certain special duties, its principal purpose is to show the Stars and Stripes in Latin America.

Another small force, designated officially as "squadron 40-T" (temporary), is stationed in the Mediterranean where it was sent shortly after the outbreak of the Spanish war to evacuate American nationals.

In addition, the navy has forces at Guantanamo, Cuba, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, the Philippines and other outlying areas.

LONDON—Margaret Ethel Adcock, 17, has left school to prepare for her marriage to canon Ralph Porter Wade, 53-year-old Lincolnshire vicar, early in 1939.

"Often a Bridesmaid"

BY HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS
Margaret, eldest of the three Wickham girls, is the prettiest. It is she who provides the boy friends for her sisters, Natalie and Barbara. With most of the eligible young men of the community to choose from, Margaret picks Kenneth Raleigh, penniless but popular and handsome young football hero. Margaret's best friend, Sue Decker, also loves Kenneth. Margaret announces her engagement to Ken. Then comes the blow of financial trouble. Alex Wickham has lost all his investments. Margaret postpones her marriage and goes to work in a dress shop. Ken only earns $18 a week in a haberdashery but gets an offer from a brokerage house to represent them in Honolulu. He enthusiastically tells Margaret of his plans. They will get married and sail in two weeks. She tries to tell him it will be impossible for her to leave with him then but he will not listen.

CHAPTER X
There was the matter of her passage. He'd have to make reservation. The money part troubled him, too. Well, he'd have to manage some way.
"Maybe I could come later," she suggested practically.
He saw the advantages of such an arrangement, and the disadvantages, too. Go out to a strange place alone, and what happens? Every single woman for miles, and about half the married ones, make a play for you. And what are you going to do? Be nice to them and you're in Dutch with your own girl later. Push them away and they spread the word you're kind of screwy. Explain that there's a girl back home and you look like a sap. No there was just one way to do it, and that was to start right out as a married man.
"That's out, Maggie. You've got to come with me."
She couldn't. She'd have to. Well, they'd take a couple of days, and think it over. What was there to think over?
It was getting late, and it had been a particularly trying day. Margaret ached with weariness. She wanted to go upstairs to bed, and just think of going with Kenny and sleep. Tomorrow she would break the news to the family, and they could plan, and if she couldn't go on the Lurline she could follow on another boat, say in the summer.
"Darling, I'm so tired. Let's not talk any more tonight."
"I'm tired, too. But I want this settled. You don't seem to realize I've got money to raise, I've got a ring to buy."
"You sound as if you didn't want to."
"Don't be silly. What I mean is, there's so darn little time."
"That's it. I really don't see how I can possibly make the boat. But if you go ahead, and then I follow—say in June—"
"I said that was no good!"
"No you didn't."
"I did. I said I didn't want it that way."
"But why not?"

"Because I don't."
"But you must have a reason!"
"I have, lots of them. I want you with me."
"And I want to be with you."
"If I can manage the 'buts' I guess you can. This is real serious, Margaret. It's my big chance, and I've got to go into it right. You come with me, and we have our honeymoon on the boat, and people welcome us and entertain us and all that, and then you can settle down to looking for a house for us and I can settle down to business. See the idea?"
"Yes, but—"
"And if I were to go on there alone, it puts me in the wrong spot, doesn't it?"
"No. What do you mean?"
"Well, you know how things are with a fellow going to a new place, and different girls going for him, and—"
She laughed. "Oh, if that's all that's worrying you!"
"No, but Margaret, you don't get it. Say that I start in that way and then you come in two months, and I'm a married man. Where's my contacts. But if I START as a married man—"
His face was lined with the effort of making his point. He thought she wasn't really listening, so he began again. "A fellow has to be one thing or another on a job like that. He's a playboy, or he's a married man, see? And I love you, and I want you but I've got to think of my work, too. Look how long I've been hoping for this and working for it, and now the big chance, and what do you do? Gum up the works. Throw monkey wrenches. Act as if you didn't know your own mind. Enough to make a man wish he'd never got a swell job with J. H. Hines, one of the biggest bond houses in the country. The way you act—"
"Oh, Ken—stop. I tell you I'm tired. I'm dead on my feet—"
"Then stop arguing! It's all fixed."
"With you. But you aren't considering me. I've got fixing to do, too. What about my family?"
"Your family. Two able-bodied sisters and an able-bodied father."
"But Ken, you know that—"
"Yes, I know. I know. I know that I don't have to support my dad, and he's older than yours. He works."
"Daddy works, too! He works hard!"
"Then why doesn't he make something, and take care of his family. Why should you—"
"Leave Daddy out of it. This is between you and me."
"Why don't YOU leave him out of it? It IS between you and me. You promised to marry me, and you told me you loved me. Now you talk family. Make excuses. Well, I can't stand it. You love me, or you don't love me. If you do—"
"Kenny, what's wrong with you? You never used to talk like that. You make me MAD!" She was frightened, afraid of this angry stranger, masquerading as Ken, afraid of what he might say about her father, sitting in by the fire.

Livermore in Spotlight Again

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Livermore, Sr.

For many years, Jesse Livermore, Sr., has been a front page figure since his spectacular operations on the stock market brought him into the limelight. Lately, however, he has kept in the background. But here he is with Mrs. Livermore, his third wife, at a surprise birthday dinner dance in New York. Among those present was Jesse, Jr., who once suffered a nearly fatal bullet wound at the home of the boy's mother, Mrs. Dorothea F. Longcope, second wife of Livermore, Sr.

TORONTO—A new record in the number of summonses issued to automobile drivers in one day in Toronto was set here when 920 operators received tickets. More than 60 per cent of those summoned kept the magistrates' court clerks busy by pleading guilty and paying fines.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile isn't flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, rank and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Theatre Attractions

Robert Donat, as he appears in the leading role of the doctor in "The Citadel" showing at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Described as the most impressive screen adaptation of a popular novel in years, "The Citadel" based on Dr. A. J. Cronin's best seller, will begin a three-day engagement at the State theater Thursday.

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer at its British studios in Denham, England, on an American scale more pretentious than is customary abroad, the picture co-stars Robert Donat, distinguished young Englishman, and Rosalind Russell of Hollywood, with a cast of more than 100 players.

King Vidor, who directed such notable films of the past as "The Big Parade," "The Crowd" and "Our Daily Bread," was selected by M-G-M to bring the Cronin story to the screen. Victor Saville, distinguished veteran of the British film industry, was the producer.

English Stars in Cast
Appearing in principal roles with the stars are Ralph Richardson and Rex Harrison, well-known English actors, both of whom have played to American theater audiences. "MUTTS TO YOU"

Russell, with whom he falls in love. Their struggle against poverty and his heroic labors in the pits provide a dramatic background for the action. In a mine disaster the surgeon amputates the arm of a workman when it is trapped beneath fallen timbers, saving the life and winning the respect of his fellows.

Later, when his career has advanced to a society practice in London, the young medical man forgets the ethics of his calling and descends to flattery and worthless pills for fat fees from shallow patients. He errs in a critical operation and is shocked back into his senses.

With the encouragement of his wife and the cooperation of a group of fellow physicians, equally earnest, he organizes a worthwhile clinic for the poor, abandoning all hope for wealth and fame to further the progress of a noble profession.

Comedy Tonight At State
Concluding at the State tonight is the comedy, "Hard to Get," featuring Dick Powell, Olivia de Havilland and Charles Winninger.

Two pictures show tonight and Thursday at the Grand. The first feature is "King of Alcatraz," a story of a man's attempt to make good his escape from the prison, the "breakproof" fortress feared by every criminal.

The picture, which features Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan and J. Carroll Nash heading a cast of film favorites, shows the escaped killer—Nash—boarding a coastal ship in disguise, accompanied by his henchmen. Once out to sea, the gang pirates the ship to gain possession. Nolan and Robert Preston, a promising screen newcomer, who portray the two radio operators on board the steamer, are overpowered and made prisoners, as are Ship's Nurse Gail Patrick and the rest of the crew. It is Nash's idea to run the ship ashore in one of the Central American republics and there vanish into the interior.

Mum on Hitler

Marie Schindler (above) who said she worked as housekeeper in Adolf Hitler's Berchtesgaden retreat in the mountains of Bavaria, is pictured at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Estey, at Spruce Creek, Pa. Asked whom Hitler entertained at the closely-guarded house, she refused to talk.

where he hopes to elude his pursuers.
ReCapture Ship
In a sudden thrilling fight, Nolan and his party of loyal sailors manage to recapture the ship and kill Nash—but not until Nolan has been so severely wounded that an immediate operation is necessary.

Miss Patrick is willing to operate on him, but is not sufficiently experienced in surgery to do so. She manages, however, to establish radio contact with another ship, and in a thrilling two-way radio conversation, receives a doctor's step-by-step instructions as to how to proceed with the operation.

"King of Alcatraz," which was directed by Robert Florey, also features Harry Carey, Porter Hall and Anthony Quinn in prominent roles.

The second feature is "Personal Secretary," with William Gargan and Joy Hodges in the leading roles. Playing rival newspaper reporters, the two start out to solve a mysterious killing, with the murderer watching their every step.
